Actual Size

Bed bugs are tiny insects, the size of an apple seed, that like to feed on people and animals. They don't make people sick but their bites can itch. They hide in people's homes and can be hard to see. Ruby went school to learn how to find them by sniffing with her nose. Brian needed Ruby's help to find the bed bugs in Jeremy's room.

Brian started treating the bed bugs. He brought his super heater into Jeremy's room and sealed the windows and doors. He turned on the heater and left the room. When the temperature reached up to 149 degrees the bed bugs, their larvae and their eggs died. Brian rarely uses chemicals to treat bed bugs.

Brian told Jeremy & his Mom that bed bugs can enter a home in backpacks and luggage. Or they can even crawl from one apartment to the next. Jeremy and his Mom thanked Brian and said good bye.

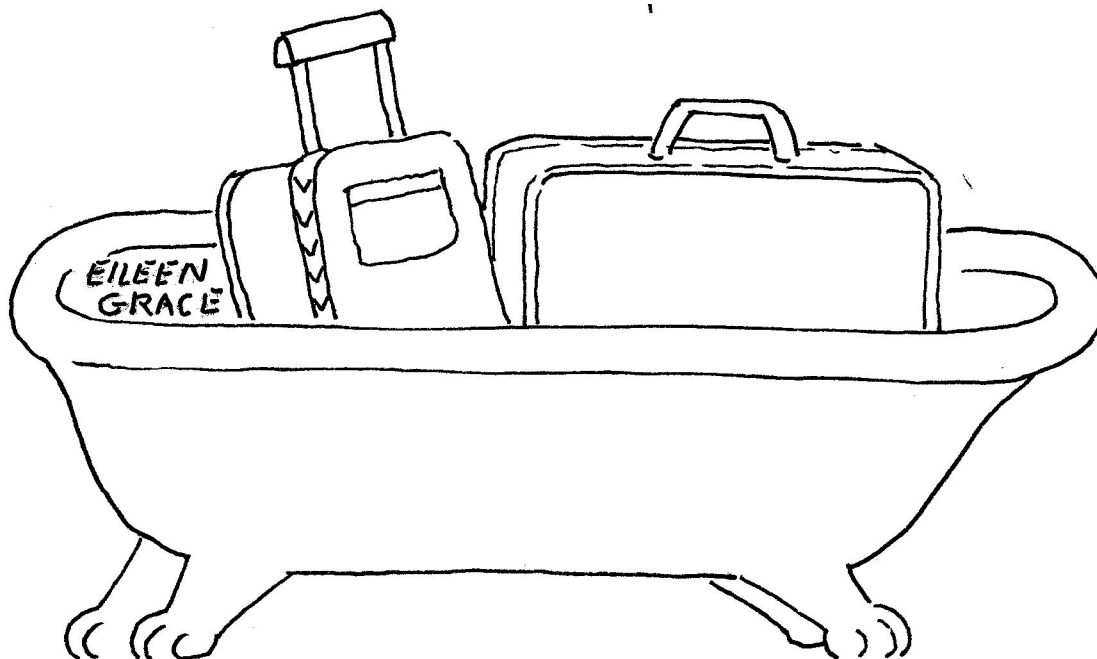

Ruby had solved another bed bug caper!

A decorative box at the bottom of the page containing contact information. It has a hexagonal shape with a border of small flowers and leaves. The text inside is centered and reads: "More about bed bugs at: www.ApolloXPestControl.com 203-256-1200".

Travel Tips to Prevent Bringing Bed Bugs Home

1. Bring a flashlight to check for bed bugs in your hotel room, especially in the bed.
2. Cover Suitcases with plastic and keep them off the floor. Put them in a dry bath tub.
3. When you return from a trip put all of your clothes in the dryer, as hot as the clothes will allow, for 45 minutes.

How To Tell If You Have Bed Bugs

Sometimes you can see the bed bugs in your bed. And, bites on your body might be a sign of bed bugs, too. However, bed bugs don't affect everyone, so the best way to determine if you have bed bugs is to call the pest control experts at ApolloX Pest Control.
